stantly changing global scenario. The Defence Minister inaugurated the 39th Commanders' Conference of the Indian Coast Guard (ICG) which will deliberate upon key issues of India's maritime security for three days.

"There have been no reports of any breach in coastal security in the last 14 years due to the ICG's dynamic strategy and its cooperation with the Indian Navy and local administration," he said. The ICG Commanders conference is held annually, where all Regional Commanders put forth the roadmap for the future and discuss various policy and strategic issues.

India's maritime security needs due to the ever-evolving global situation. Recalling the 2008 Mumbai terror attacks, he said, the incident showed that for a long time the country's orientation was focused on the security of land borders and not much attention was paid to coastal security.

He lauded the ICG for continuously enhancing its capability in the last few years and playing a key role in bolstering coastal security. "Due to these efforts, the country has not witnessed any terror activity from the sea route since the 2008 Mumbai attacks," he said.

The ICG Commanders conference is held annually, where all Regional Commanders put forth the roadmap for the future and discuss various policy and strategic issues.
